REOMAC® 2012 Annual Education Summit & Expo

March 18-21, 2012

JW Marriott • Palm Desert, California

ABOUT REOMAC®

REOMAC® was founded in 1985 by a group of REO asset managers. When the California real estate market began a downward turn, these managers met to exchange best practices. In time, they invited their service providers to participate and REOMAC® was born. REOMAC® is a not-for-profit professional trade association serving the non-performing assets industry.

The organization was formed to educate its members by sharing ideas and best practices for the management and disposition of nonperforming assets and to create a forum where managers of financial institutions could discuss issues relevant to the industry. In time, this evolved to include matters of pre-foreclosure, foreclosure, loss mitigation and bankruptcy. Our mission is to improve the professional development of our members and ultimately enhance and advance their careers.

REOMAC® has evolved into the leading default services association nationally. Our membership includes lenders and servicers; attorneys and vendors; and Realtors® and brokers from nearly every state in the continental U.S., as well as Alaska and Hawaii. REOMAC® members are dedicated to improving the quality of service they provide each other and the industry at large. For more information about our organization, visit our website at www.reomac.org. ☺

Events not published in the Summit Schedule are not a part of the Summit and should not be viewed as such.

SUMMIT ENTRANCE

Summit events are only open to paid Summit attendees. REOMAC® reserves the right to refuse entrance to anyone in whole or in part, at will without cause.

DISCLAIMER

This Education Summit is being presented by REOMAC®. REOMAC® promotes forums of open discussion of current events, legal issues and educational issues relating to the default industry. REOMAC® does not endorse or adopt the views and opinions expressed by any author, contributor, speaker or sponsor. REOMAC® does, however, recognize the First Amendment right of every author, contributor, speaker and sponsor to express his or her views.

REOMAC® is a not-for-profit trade association serving the mortgage default industry. As there may be interest from the media to cover topics related to the industry, REOMAC® strongly recommends members not participate in media interviews at REOMAC® sanctioned events.

REOMAC®'s designated media spokespersons are armed with the most accurate and up-to-date industry information; and interviews or quotes provided by anyone other than these spokespersons may not represent an accurate representation of the views of the organization. Alternate parties are not authorized to speak on behalf of the organization. Should any member choose to participate in unauthorized interviews with the media, REOMAC® is not responsible for negative representations or misquotes.

DRESS CODE

Summit attendees are welcome to dress casually for Sunday's Welcome Reception. This will be a great time to mix and mingle in a relaxed comfortable environment. Monday and Tuesday events require business casual attire. Remember this is when others want to see your professional side. The Monday evening Charity Auction and Reception is a time to don your evening attire for an elegant evening of hors d'oeuvres and fun with fellow Summit attendees. Don't forget your name badge is considered part of the dress code and will be your key to access the educational sessions, exhibit hall and Summit events.

CODE OF CONDUCT FOR EDUCATION SUMMIT AND MEETINGS

REOMAC® (Association of Real Estate Owned Managers, Inc.) acknowledges the rights and privileges of members, default industry non-members, guests, speakers, exhibitors, sponsors and all those who attend REOMAC® meetings and education Summits to be treated with respect and courtesy.

To ensure an environment conducive to professional growth and development, the following Code of Conduct shall apply:

- All attendees of REOMAC® Education Summits/Meetings shall conduct themselves in a professional manner and treat others with respect, courtesy and dignity at all times.
- We encourage you to network only with REOMAC® registered Summit attendees.

- Attendees are not allowed to approach the speaker's stage at any time.
- All attendees shall keep their name badge in full view at all times while attending all events.
- All attendees are asked to arrive on time to educational sessions.
- All attendees are asked to silence cell phones, computers and other electronic devices while meetings are in session.
- Professional business attire or business casual attire is an acceptable style of dress for professional meetings; pool/spa attire is not allowed.
- Summit participants should respect, at all times, the facilities, equipment, rooms, buildings, and surroundings that may be used throughout the Summit.
- Summit participants shall not present product information, distribute products, promote themselves or their own business during the Summit unless the Summit participant is exhibiting or has sponsored a specific event.
- All exhibitors must follow the policies as stated in the Exhibitor Rules and Regulations.
- Speakers shall not solicit business, present product information, distribute products, or promote their own business during their particular session(s).
- Any violations of this Code of Conduct may result in individuals being immediately barred from all further education Summit activities and possibly future education Summits/Meetings.

Aron Ralston

KEYNOTE SPEAKER

In 2003 Aron Ralston's story made headlines worldwide. After being pinned by a half-ton boulder for nearly a week in a remote three-foot-wide slot canyon in southern Utah, Ralston narrowly escaped death by severing his right forearm with a dull pocketknife. After applying a tourniquet, he hiked and rappelled for five hours through Blue John Canyon before searchers in a helicopter miraculously rescued him.

Ralston documented the life-altering experience and his remarkable will to survive in his New York Times best-selling book, Between a Rock and a Hard Place. His story has been adapted into a movie by Oscar-winning director Danny Boyle, titled 127 Hours. In 2011, the film was nominated for an astounding six Academy Awards, including Best Picture, and three Golden Globes.

A powerful inspirational speaker, Ralston touches the hearts of audiences nationwide through his tale of survival, tapping into the fundamental human experiences of facing and surmounting obstacles. Ralston recognizes that we may not all meet an 800 pound boulder, but we will all meet adversity in some form. And though his story is a compelling example of the will to live, Ralston reminds audiences that, ultimately, nothing is stronger than the will to live.

Aided by radical prosthetic devices that he helped design – Ralston has expanded his adventures to the world's great peaks, deserts, and rivers. He is the only person to have solo-climbed all 59 of Colorado's 14,000-foot-high mountains in winter; the only person with a disability to have skied from the summit of Denali, North America's tallest mountain; and in April 2009, he became the first amputee to row a raft through the Grand Canyon.

Ralston graduated as Carnegie Mellon University's top student in mechanical engineering in 1997, with Phi Beta Kappa honors for a second degree in French. He left his job as a mechanical engineer with Intel in 2002 to follow his passion for outdoor adventures in Colorado.

Today, Ralston lives with his wife Jessica and their son in Boulder, Colorado. He also advocates for Utah and Colorado wilderness. ➔

John Husing, Ph.D.

ECONOMIST SPEAKER

Dr. John Husing is a research economist who has specialized in the study of economic issue facing U.S. urban areas since 1964. For decades, he has produced city and county specific economic development strategies for local governments. He is also a leading authority on the impact of the national goods movement industry, and in particular its role as a provider of upward economic mobility to blue collar workers. He has spent decades understanding the impact of U.S. housing policy on the viability of urban neighborhoods. His most recent work has examined the unintended consequence of increasing unemployment among marginally educated workers and the creation of different kinds of public health problems as a result of inordinate levels of regulation aimed at the construction, logistics manufacturing and mining sectors in the name of public health.

Dr. Husing's extensive economic development work combines the use of detailed statistics and his knowledge of national and local economic trends with extensive interviews of executives and entrepreneurs to create strategies grounded in reality. His firm, Economics & Politics, Inc., has used this approach in creating project specific economic impact studies for transportation and water agencies, housing developers and environmental entities. For an economist, he has a unique viewpoint of our political process, having managed over 100 partisan (Democratic) and non-partisan campaigns. Today, his prolific knowledge of the region and his political experience has him briefing business leaders and policy makers throughout the country on the economic trends and issues relating to budgets, state initiatives and public policy. His eclectic career has remarkably included managing a Nevada casino, running for Congress in his twenties, teaching college and running the world's largest whitewater rafting company.

Dr. Husing enjoys a less studious life as an adventurer, taking treks into uncharted territories as well as traveling to 56 different countries. In recent years, he has twice entered the unexplored jungles of New Guinea to make first contact with previously undiscovered stone-aged tribes. Dr. Husing has traveled throughout most of Africa and his last adventure trip took him over the Himalayas from Nepal into Tibet. A fourth generation Californian, he is an amateur genealogist having traced his American heritage back 12 generations to Edward Fuller on the Mayflower. ➡

BREAKOUT SESSION 1

Home Living vs. Homeownership

For a multitude of reasons there has been a shift in areas across the country from buying that home ... to just renting it. Rental programs established in the REO industry, investor purchasers, lack of interest and/or ability to purchase a home – the landscape has changed. Come hear our panelists as they discuss the current trend and what that means to and for the industry.

BREAKOUT SESSION 2

Ongoing Default Challenges and Solutions

Our panelists have taken on the mission of delving into some of the hottest topics that continue to challenge the default industry. Code violations (pre- and post-foreclosure), local ordinances/registration requirements, HOA issues – all are issues that continue to exist and, in some cases, transform and evolve. What does not change is our need to stay knowledgeable and work through solutions – our panel of experts will share their insight and suggestions for solutions.

10:45 am - 11:15 am Exhibit Break

11:15 am - 12:30 pm

BREAKOUT SESSION 3

Litigation/Legislation Update

Across the nation the courts and legislature continue to have an effect on the day-to-day processes of the mortgage default industry. Our panelists will discuss the most recent and topical items affecting the industry, how we are all held accountable for compliance, and provide insight into what may be coming.

BREAKOUT SESSION 4

Technology

Technology seems to do everything but slow down. New technologies, new capabilities, new programs, new client requirements – it seems never ending. Technology is a key component to all aspects of the mortgage default industry. But, are we using technology in the most effective way? Our panelists will explore the use of technology in the industry, how we can make it work better for us and what the future may hold.

Tuesday, March 20, 2012

12:30 pm - 2:00 pm Closing Celebration Luncheon & Grand Prize Drawing

You could be the winner for the Grand Prize drawing, plus other amazing prizes! Join us to find out. After two days of gathering the latest in default industry news and making connections, this celebration will be a perfect way to end the summit.

2:15 pm - 3:45 pm

TRAINING SESSION

PMH Financial: Client Initiatives and How They Affect the Agent's Scorecards

Compliance concerns as related to specific clients will be addressed in this session. The discussion will touch on all client initiatives regarding compliance issues. Some of the topics discussed will include: secret shopper, non-public information and property inspections.

2:15 pm - 3:45 pm

FANNIE MAE SESSION

REO Management Tool for Tomorrow – (by invitation only)

Tuesday, March 20, 2012

4:00 pm - 5:30 pm

TRAINING SESSION

REOMAC®: Commercial Servicing & Default Strategies

Just as in the residential sector, the commercial property industry has faced significant challenges in recent years. Accordingly, it is crucial to identify, develop, and analyze strategies and concepts that can be applied to turn around distressed loans, protect interests in collateral, and maximize profits from commercial properties.

This session will focus on how best to handle distressed commercial properties and will cover such specific topics as:

- How commercial loan servicers evaluate distressed assets
- The process behind determining which loans will be processed for either default, receivership, restructuring, or modification
- The decision and information points that indicate a note sale is the best way forward
- The determination of future revenue from the property and how that impacts the value of the asset
- The audit process that drives lender decision making

All of this valuable information will allow property owners, vendors, lenders, and consumers to better understand how to move forward in the most cost-efficient and effective way to protect and grow their assets.

4:00 pm - 5:30 pm

FANNIE MAE SESSION

REO Management Tool for Tomorrow – (by invitation only)

EXHIBIT HALL

The REOMAC® Scholarship Program

One of the most rewarding aspects of the REOMAC® Annual Education Summit & Expo is the REOMAC® Foundation Charity Reception, featuring both Silent and Live Auctions, on Monday evening. Through this event, the REOMAC® Foundation is able to raise funds that enabled the awarding last year of scholarships to fifty-nine hard-working students who are diligently pursuing college degrees. REOMAC® is honored to have awarded $57,500 in scholarships in 2011.

This year, the REOMAC® Foundation is striving to give back to the community through these scholarships again – and they need your help! There are two ways you can be part of this worthy cause. The first way is to donate an item that will be auctioned off on Monday evening. The second way is to participate in the auction itself. This is especially fun as the students receive financial aid to help them with school, and you just might purchase that perfect gift for someone you love. Either way, you are contributing to something that helps the relatives of those in the default industry succeed – what could be better?

Look for the auction items during the Welcome Reception on Sunday Evening and in the Registration Foyer all day Monday – and of course at the event on Monday from 6:00 pm to 7:30 pm.

The REOMAC® Foundation would like to thank you in advance for your generosity! ☺
